Varsity Wins With Style

To reign as NCS Champs was a goal the team worked hard for. To go undefeated was someting extra to be proud of.

"The team had the get-up-and-go, comefrom behind attitude. Determination and hustle also played an important part in making this such a successful season commented Coach Liz Parrott at the annual Fall Sports Banquet

At the Arcata Invitational Volleyball Tournament October 4, Senior Laura Ruell was named to the all tournament team. Loggers started off slowly placing sixth out of the twelve tournament teams, but came back to finish the season with a 12-0 league record, 17-3 overall.

The twelve-member team was characterized by its ability to pull together on the bench and on the court. Height was also a dominating factor as Loggers worked a 5-1 system where the setter came out of the back row to keep the strength of the tall hitters at the net

Throughout the season, EHS volleyballers were under pressure to maintain top position in the league. Their traditional chant of Emua, (which means power in Hawaiian) proved to be true as they overpowered their opponents one after another and qualified for section play-offs

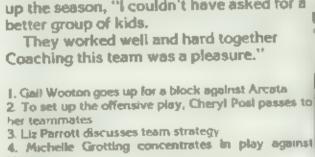

at Santa Rosa, November 20

After a long bus ride, the women failed to overcome Terra Linda and Santa Rosa, teams which went on to take all before defeating Acalanais to place Loggers third Valuable Player and Most Inspirational, awards went to Denise Tonini and Laura Ruell respectively. Coach Parrott summed up the season, "I couldn't have asked for a better group of kids.

Many firsts for JV

"We did an excellent job. I think we surprised ourselves by our undefeated season. — Carroll DeAndreas.

Along with first year coach Kathy Capik, came a lot of other firsts, it was the first time in ten years that a JV team had taken top honors and the first time in EHS history that the team went totally unbeaten with a 17-0 record

Coach Capik, former EHS athlete, commented, "This team didn't know what losers were." She went on to say that "Their sense of humor made the group, as a whole, easy to work with."

The better skilled JV players can partial ly be accredited to the junior high school programs. A final first took place when voted by her teammates, Kim Floide received honors of both Most Valuable and Most Inspirational Player

A disheartening 16-14 defeat to San Marin in the North Coast Sections Class 3A Championships concluded one of the most exciting and outstanding seasons of Eureka High football in many years

After crushing Piner High in the semifinals at Humboldt State's Redwood Bowl. EHS took off to Santa Rosa for the championship tilt with San Marin.

Loggers dominated the game statistically unfortunately one of those statistics was turnovers, of which Eureka committed five key ones.

It wasn't so much nerves, we just really lacked concentration and we were somewhat psyched-out by the size of the other team commented All-Country quarterback. Brent Smith

Despite all the turnovers, many players say the game could have gone either way. The game was won or lost on breaks. One player commented on a play that could have changled the outcome of the game.

On one play, the ball was coming right at him and it looked like an easy interception. But an offensive player hit the Logger defender, and he tipped the ball up and it fell right into a San Marin player's hands, setting up the score that proved to be the difference.

The loss was very disappointing but I still think our season was extremely successful informed Smith. "This team had more desire and dedication and there was more of a sense of commitment than last year s. We had at least as much depth, were much more balanced because we could throw when we wanted to, and also had a fine running game. Our defense stopped opposing teams cold regularly.

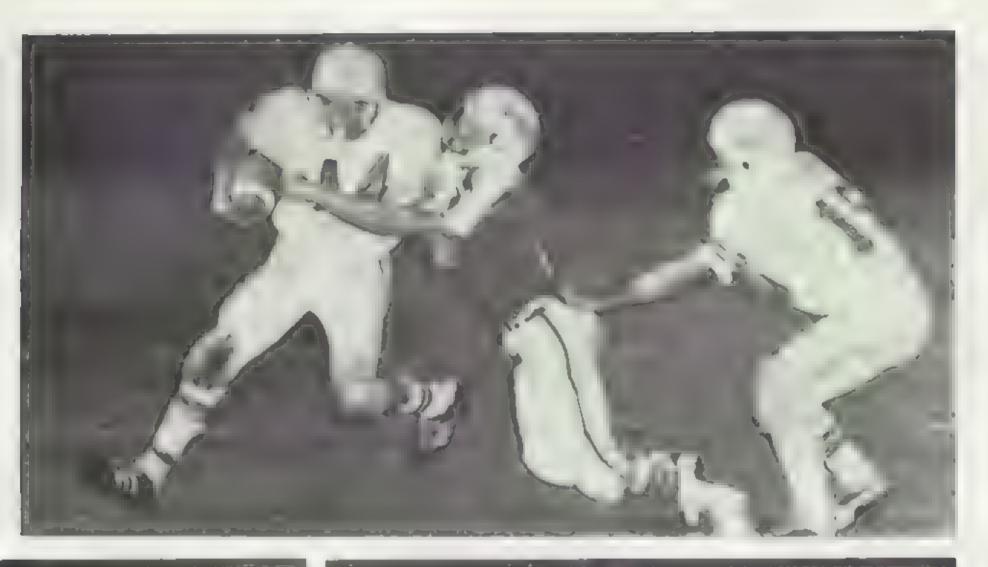

The performance of this year's squad was a surprise to many people. The team not only won the Big-Five Conference but also placed eight players on the All-county squad, one of those being wide receiver Dennis Bass. Bass had no previous high school grid experience and ended up leading the league in receptions.

Tailback Son Duong was also a pleasant surprise. After not playing his junior year, the speedy Duong came in and became one of the league is leading rushers.

JV squad sets record

"Our Championship was due to an outstanding team and individual effort." - RON HARTMAN

Junior Logger Football players set a 8-1 record, winning the JV Big-Five Conference. There was only one loss to Arcata with a close score of 6-0

Teamwork eased the team to a triumphant season. Quarterback Chris. Lewis and receiver Garrett Anderson did an outstanding job as did the rest of the team throughout the season

Awards were given to Matt Pozum as Most Valuable Lineman and Mike Kyle as Most Valuable Runningback

Coaches Ron Hartman and his assistant David Bills turned out a successful team making next year's varsity look promising

Bills added, "Being my first year as assistant coach, I couldn't have had a better bunch of athletes and school to work with "

During the summer the 1981 football cheerleaders attended camp at U.C. Santa Cruz

At camp they learned an array of new chants, cheers, and routines to bring back and adapt for EHS. Their talented efforts were rewarded at camp with several blue tibbons and a spirit stick

Besides rooting for the football team at games, the varsity football cheerleaders demonstrated support by decorating team members, lockers before games, supplying them with after game refreshments, sew ing hand-shaped "Number One" pillows, interior decorating each player's room and taking the players to a post season dinner

The junior varsity squad, under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Leach, worked hard through the football and basketball seasons

Due to the cancellation of several cheer camps, varsity basketball cheerleaders were unable to attend camp. However two U.S. Spirit Leaders agreed to develop new material

During December, the girls journeyed to Santa Rosa to support the team in pre season play

Filled with enthusiasm, cheerleaders worked on such projects as a cheer clinic TPing the players' houses, decorating lockers, and singing telegrams on Valen tine's Day to help raise money for Easter

Performing at railies was also a way in which the squad boosted school and team

Netters started with a new coach and an inexperienced team, but ended up taking second in HDN competition.

'Although the team was young, the basic attitude was good and they all wanted to play," expressed number one senior player Mike Arnot

The EHS netters started out their season with a match against Ferndale in which they were defeated. Arnot felt that the reason for losing was the jitter of the inexperience of competing

This carried on through the second match against McKinleyville, where they lost 5-4. McKinleyville went on to take

"We had the strongest team in the HDN league. One goal kept us from NCS" — Kevin Crew

Headed by captains Joe Brusca, Kevin Crew, and Paresh Patel, the EHS soccer team finished the season with an overall record of 6-2

Shutting out all other Big-Five teams at the pre-season jamboree, Loggers wre off to a good start. After losing their first league game to Arcata, the team came back to win the remainder until the play-off with Arcata. Arcata finished on top as a goal attempt accidently deflected off an EHS defender

'Our team had unity, speed, and ex perience which enabled us to play ball with more skill," noted mid-fielder Brusca. "We had a strong will to win."

'All County awards went to Horst Bayer, Joe Brusca, Kevin Crew, and Giac Nguyen, Honorable Mention included Robbie Landerman, Chuck Price, and Greg Williams.

Grapplers go to sections

"We were a young team, but we all worked well together." — Mark Sehrt

"We had a great coach and the team, as a whole, was in excellent shape," com mented senior grappler Mike Ryan

The EHS wrestling team, composed mostly of sophomores, took second place in the county. Bobby Laverne, Mike Willis, Ray Gensaw, Don Matt, and Mark Sehrt qualified to go to the North Coast Sections meet at Sonoma State University. Bobby Laverne claimed third place honors and qualified to compete in state competition. Mike Willis placed fifth in the sectional meet.

Wrestling, a sport which sometimes does not get the credit it deserves, requires a lot of self discipline. Rookie Coach Mike Fredenburg, a former grappler, who wrestled for Humboldt State University and ranked first in the nation, required the team to have longer practices than in past years Laverne and Ryan felt that this greatly contributed to the team's excellent condition

Swimmers find success in '82

"Improvement was my main goal this year and the goal was met." - Jeff Tiftick

Swimmers, with the help of a new coach, ranked well in all four meets and sent two to North Coast

Lane lines were rolled February 8, and the EHS swim team splashed into the water for long, tiring workouts with coach Jeff Tiftick

After a month of practice March 5 Eureka hosted Shasta High in a dual meet Loggers lost (109-53 girls, 132-29 boys) But considering Shasta had twice as many swimmers as EHS, Eureka did quite well

The first bus trip of the season was made March 25 and 26 to the Nor Callin vitational at Chico. Eureka placed eighth overall, and individually the girls were sixth with 131 points and boys eighth with

Riding home from Chico, swimmers ran into a few inconveniences such as the road was closed due to snow: the chains were too small for the tires, swimmers stayed most of the night at the Flame Restaurant in Willow Creek, and the group had to locate another bus due to the brakes going out

Finally after leaving Willow Creek at 4 a m.; swimmers reached Eureka Higharound 7:30 a m Sunday

After their last unforgettable experience the team decided to try their luck once. more and travel to Redding for the Pentathalon (yes, by bus)

With no complications in getting there, swimmers dove into Redding's pool and finished individually with JV girls taking first through fourth. Also J "A" and "B teams grabbed first and second in the all

In the JV boys' division fourth place was claimed and a third in the varsity

"We had a young team," commented coach Vicki Holsworth. "Next year we will be the ones to beat."

In the Big Five race for the 1982 season, the Loggers ended their play with a 4-8 record, putting them in fourth place

Leading the team was senior pitcher Kerri Holt, who averaged six strike outs per game. The team, which consisted mainly of sophomores, was basically a defensive team

"A lot of our practice time was lost at the start of the season due to rainy weather," stated coach Vicki Holsworth, "I enjoyed the team. The girls were spirited and worked well together. I am looking forward to next year when a lot of good players will be returning."

HDN stars were presented to Kerri Holt, Karen Strombeck, and Gail Wootton. Holt and Strombeck were also awarded Most Valuable Player and Most Improved Player, respectively

Boys nab Big Five

"We weren't expected to do well, but we dominated just about everything." — John Reed

1982 boys' Logger tracksters racked up another win as they took first in Big Five competition. Undefeated in local track meets, thinclads were first in Humboldt Del Norte competition

Loggers travelled to Marin where they claimed fifth in the North Coast Sections meet. Dave Goodrich came in second in the shot put. Brent Smith third in the highjump, and Steve Thorne third in the discus.

Onlookers watched Senior Brent Smith with awe as he jumped 6-7 in the high jump at the Redwood Invitational meet, since it was not a county meet, it was not a new record

Junior Dave Goodrich dominated the league in the shot put in which he took first in the county. Goodrich also qualified at NCS and the meet of Champions at Berkeley which enabled him to compete in the State Meet in Sacramento

Junior Jay Harrison also nabbed first in the county for pole vaulting. Brent Smith and John Reed captured honors at the Awards Banquet for Most Valuable Player and Most Inspirational Player respectively

Due to the lack of funds in the Humboldt Del Norte league, the Junior Var sity boys were not allowed to compete in HDN and Big Five championship meets

Gymnasts dominate league

EHS gymnasts maintained a perfect record for the 1982 season and sent three to NCS.

Although gymnastics is basically an individual sport, it was a team effort that led the Logger gymnasts to sweep top honors in the Humboldt Del Norte league with an undefeated record of 40

Unlike recent years, the team was fairly large Besides the size, the team did well due to strong novices and experienced veterans, Coach Rae Borowski com mented. "I have never seen such incredible novice performers. Their attitude and will ingness impressed me."

The HDN league was represented at NCS by five local gymnasts, three of whom were from Eureka May 14, sophomore Joanni McKeown, junior Gayle Van Horn, and senior Suzette Fox traveled to Mill Valley. They finished ninth, tenth. and fourteenth, respectively, against the tough competitors at the sectional meet

At the sports banquet, Joanni McKeown was awarded Top Gymnast and Gayle Van Horn was given Most Valuable

I was in awe half of the time to see the incredible improvement some of the girls were making. At times it was hectic preparing the team, but I enjoyed the personablies of all the athletes," summed up Borowski

EHS plays through

Five of the top ten golfers in the Humboldt/Del-Norte league were members of the EHS golf team.

Several valuable practice days and practice matches were cancelled due to the heavy rainfall at the start of the golf season. Although rain dampened the course, it could not dampen the spirits of EHS golfers. With an undefeated record of 50, they clinched the Big Five league title Eureka talked 1139 points in the final standings over Fortuna's 1080

Of the top ten golfers in the HDN league, five were from Eureka. Hemmert nabbed the number one position with a total of 238 points over teammate Mike Erickson, who ranked second with 234 points. Lance Nielson, Pat Dibblee, and Rick Gitmed ranked fifth, seventh, and tenth respectively

Under the guidance of coach Dick Ren fro, Hemmert, Erickson, Nielson, Dibblee, Gitmed, and Mike Bass traveled to Pinole Valley on May 15-18 for section play-offs Here their combined talents earned them a second place finish. Because of their fine showing, they qualified for State play-offs where they finished sixth out of the thir teen teams represented

At the Spring Sports Banquet, all county awards went to Hemmert, Erickson, and Nielson Hemmert was named Most Valuable Player and Erickson Most Inspirational Player for the 1982 season

Following the victory of the Big Five title, Varsity boys were 10-2, and on their way to Santa Rosa for the NCS playoffs

Pitching to Piner High in the first playoff, Eureka played a close game but pulled through winning 3-2

Their next opponent was Montgomery High whom Loggers defeated 11-6, which gave the team the glory of being the first baseball team in six years at Eureka High to win a game at North Coast.

After claiming the Redwood Empire Division, the team hoped to return to Santa Rosa and grab the NCS title, unfor tunately Loggers had a downfall in their luck with a man on second and third and two outs; Eureka lost to San Marin with a very close score of 5-6

Sophomores Chris Ambrosini and John Lottritz were moved up from the JV squad to Varsity after the season to play at NCS.

Bark staff copes

"The staff should be commended for doing a more than adequate job on every issue." — Don Terbush

Because there was no fall journalism class, Redwood Bark was hampered by a small staff which managed to put out a quality publication with Editor Don Ter bush and Assistant Ken Harper

Under the advisorship of Ms. Sylvia Rodgers, a Bark highlight was the field trip to Times Standard where Managing Editor Jerry Post explained techniques for headlines, pictures, and paste-up. EHS photographer Ken Thissell was tutored on techniques of screening and the staff examined the AP trasmitter the computer, and machinery for printing, cutting, folding, and stacking

Windy Hebard did a good job recruiting ads and executing layout and design. Nan cy Crane and Jill Lipscomb, feature editors, kept up on school events and Crane was responsible for a first — the entertainment page

Speech-drama acts

This special group of actors and actresses were a real plus at EHS

The art of theater can be fulfilling and a most rewarding aspect of life, and our drama department fits that description, remarked Speech Drama Club president Beth Stanley

After one successful production for the year, Our Miss Brooks, Speech Drama members and the Redwood Players per formed a spring musical Babes in Arms

Throughout the year, the club took up many activities. Members sold candy to help fund events such as the planned pain ting of the basement and make up room, and a trip to see Elephant Man

FFA judging teams excel

The Future Farmers of America are an exciting and energetic group of young agrarians.

Eureka Chapter of Future Farmers of America partook in three main activities throughout the year: the judging teams, school fair, and the awards banquet

Parliamentary procedure, dairy cattle judging, poultry judging, and the farm records teams participated in the Davis, Chico, Fresno, and San Luis Obispo field

As president, Lisa Jeffers carried parliamentary procedure team to a sectional victory and to one of the top four teen teams in the state. The dairy judging team was in the top five teams at the Fresno field day with Derek Senestrato as third high individual in the poultry judging contest at Fresno State. The farm records team did well at all the field days

During the annual school fair in May, students learned how to fit and show their project animals. The top three showmen in each class were, swine - John Peterson, Marc Kasper and Bill Figas; dairy cattle -Derek Senestraro, Susan Moranda, and Theresa Hansen; sheep — Dessie Bartlett, Sherry Spitzer and Lisa Jeffers. The winner of the Round Robin showmanship con test was John Peterson. Round Robin is a contest in which top showmen are judged on how well they show animals.

Each student participating had to show a pig, sheep, and a dairy cow. All students were judged on how clean their animal was and if it was properly groomed and shown

Native Americans progress

We were here first and we're not going to finish last"

— Joe Giovanetti

Right from the beginning of the 1981-82 school year, Native American Club was very active, under the direction of Joe Giovanetti

In October this EHS club sponsored the Mad River Salmon Feed, Indian speakers, singers, and traditional cultural foods highlighted this special event

In the following month, College Career Night took place at Redwood Acres Representatives from 15 different training programs and Universities in California spoke to a large group of Native Americans

Financial aid workshops in December and February helped students apply for scholarships and grants. Speakers gave in spirational talks on the importance of Native Americans pursuing their educa tions to the fullest potential

April brought a special reception for Will Sampson, a well-known Indian actor Sampson acted in the motion picture One Flew Over the Coo-Coo's Nest

Individuals, groups win

The most outstanding voices of the people of EHS were brought together to form two different clubs.

Director Pat Donahue led two energetic and hard-working vocal groups again this year

Mixed Ensemble featured the more talented singers of EHS, while Chorus was a learning group anyone could join.

Both groups performed for the Exchange Club at Christmas time. They also entertained EHS people at the Christmas concert and assemblies

In March, the groups participated in the All-County Music Festival Here, three Eureka High students qualified for the All State Festival Deann Mendes and David Bain were won the honor of performing in the All State Choir, a group of 250 people. Linc Briney qualified for All State Vocal Jazz Ensemble, an elite group of only 24. All three of these talented EHS students traveled to Los Angeles in April to perform at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium

Also in March, Mixed Ensemble participated in the Humboldt State Jazz Festival Competing against groups from all over Northern California, EHS placed second

Eureka High held its own Choral Festival at the end of March, Both, Chorus and Mixed Ensemble participated

The clubs performed at the Spring Concert and at graduation. And in an effort to inspire the desire to sing, the groups visited local junior highs

FBLA Reorganizes

"We reorganized the club because we had some exceptional students" — Mrs. Trudy Penicks.

Reactivating FBLA after a layoff. Mrs Trudy Penicks, advisor, claimed the club did better than it had before and expects to do better next year.

The main reason for reactivating the club was to get talented EHS business students to State competition in shor thand, typing, accounting, i.e., business related talents. Senior Becky Sullivan won the NCS (North Coast Sections) in business and typing competition and became eligible for a savings bond toward college.

Problems encountered were rule changes in the State competition which eliminated most of the chances for EHS competitors. Inexperience of club officers made it difficult to get started

A future goal was going into the community for businesspersons' support and awareness

Officers were: President Becky Sullivan, Vice-president Janette Duncan, Secretary Janine Duncan, and Treasurer Gail Van Horn

Interact progresses

"One of the major thrusts this was to be more active than last year." President Nancy Crane.

InterAct, a Rotary sponsored service club, was active all year under the advisorship of Mrs. Maureen Johannson

One of the prominent school projects was the annual Christmas Prom. A se cond project was the two Rotary sponsored exchange students: Derik Jones from South Africa and Akko Doi from Japan. Another was the planting of trees in empty planter boxes to beautify the campus

In the community, remembering older people was a major concern Members presented Valentines at rest homes for the second year in a row and constructed flowers on May Day for senior citizens. Members also attended a Rotary Convention and helped at the KEET auction

Fundraisers were the selling of carna tions at Homecoming and of St Patrick's Day buttons. Funds will be us ed to help send three exchange students from Humboldt County next year

Administration codes students

"Numbers were assigned to ease the recording of attendance and to keep attendance up to date," -Gerald Carter.

When students filled the halls during the first week of school, they were shocked to find that, when roll call came about, no one had a name; or if he/she did, it didn't seem to matter

Instead, all students were coded with a number. The numbers started out in multiples of five; new students got numbers in between the multiples, which kept the numbers alphabetical Sophomores numbers ranged from 1000-3999, Juniors 4000-6999, and Seniors 7000-9999

Leaving the classroom was almost more trouble than it was worth! Students found themselves filling out a hall pass, having the teacher sign it, signing their name, time leaving, and where they were going on a sheet. Then, when they returned, they had to sign in

Administration consisted of George Lee, Principal, Gerald Carter, Assistant Principal, and Carl Del Grande, Assistant Principal. The counseling staff was made up of Marge Crichton, Joan Crossan, Ron-Dias, Julian Erickson, Carole Cox, Voca tional Counselor, Jim McKinney, HROP Counselor, Robert Richmond, Work Experience, and Joe Giovennetti, Native American Counselor

Math, Ag up in quality

"EHS students do very well in math contests, both state and national level." — Roger Weber

More students had to enroll in math classes because of the increase in math requirements," commented Roger Weber, chairman of the math depart ment. Sophomores were required to have at least two years of math to graduate.

Although enrollment increased in math and decreased in agriculture, ag quality remained higher than ever. "All of the students are outstanding remarked Robert Laffranchi, agriculture teacher. Art and Business thrive

"The art program has a big variety; we try to offer something for everyone." — Art Department Chairman Bob Lopez

Art appeared more popular among EHS students last year than in previous years Pottery, for example, almost doubled its enrollment from last year

Due to budget cuts, students had to buy their own clay for this class, but other materials were provided by the school Other art classes also suffered, but enroll ment didn't

In another popular department, business, a new class was offered last year." Clerical Office Practice (COP) is a new class we are offering and hoping that It will expand," remarked Patricia Harvey. instructor

The class dealt with almost every aspect of a secretary's job. typing, filing, and sometimes microcomputer work. Also highlighting the class were guest speakers.

"I'm fortunate to have my job because I work with a group of people who enjoy playing" - Don Moehnke

"We have a good program here," commented William Goetz, Industrial education instructor. Class attendance gradually rose which was due to students' interest in the various classes offered: wood shop, technical drawing, auto, engineering, and architectual

Naval Junior Reserve Officers Train ing Corps also took steps forward in at tendance and enrollment. "We're good, we're getting better, and we're striving to be great," remarked Major Robert Warren, NJROTC instructor

FEW changes made in HROP

"HROP is a good place for students to find jobs and also a good experience for college." - Jim McKinney

"In the past there has been more flex ibility in students' schedules. Now they have to have at least four on-campus classes to take HROP," (Humboldt Regional Occupations Program) com mented Jim McKinney, HROP counselor

Classes train for future

Career ed, drivers' ed/state requirements, and homemaking — all prepared EHS students for the future.

Career education, a new, required class for sophomores this year, prepared students in most aspects of the job market.

Students researched careers, learned how to fill out job applications, how to act during a job interview, and to file for income tax

Another popular class was Homemak ing. "The Homemaking department feels that every student (male and female) should acquire the skills necessary to equip him/her with the capability of sur viving comfortably in regard to home family, consumerism, health and nutrition, food and clothing," commented Carol Ballard, chairman

Courses offered to accomplish the above were: "On Your Own," Child development, child care, stitchery and a variety of clothing and food classes

"Homemaking classes are no longer dominated by girls alone, there are a large number fellows taking classes," added Ballard

Pam Cahill was teaching during the first semester but left in October to have a baby boy. She will return teaching full time in September, 1982

Sophomores were required by state law to take driver's education and a course which familiarized students with first aid, drugs, alcohol and tobacco

Drivers' education prepared students to enter the driving world. During first aid, students learned what to do and how to help in an emergency situation

Also added to the semester choices were field hockey and fleetball, which were brought back from years past. Enrollment increased steadily with more boys than girls enrolling

One department at EHS that students didn't know much about was special. education. Helping students who have trouble with their classes was the goal of the special education classes. There were approximately six to 15 people in each class to insure special attention was available

Many of the students are rather bright but lack self confidence and some basic skills to get them through some classes," commented Diana Berliner, special education instructor.

EHS teachers specialize

Members of EHS faculty did outstanding jobs and were special people to all of us over the year.

Mr. Ray Mechals was the student government advisor who kept school activities moving. During a rally or other student-planned activity, one could always find Mechals

Did you ever wonder who designed and painted those posters informing students about activities? Mr. Bill Crichton and his art production class made posters for sports; assemblies, rallies banquets and other school functions. They also made buttons and did work for the community

A senior class in debt at the beginning of the year that could put on a Senior Class Night to make the most money in history must have two good elements. First, it must have a supportive advisor, and second, a group of dedicated students. Mr. Al Braud was that advisor, and the class of 82 was that group of students

Another outstanding advisor and class was Mr. Bill Schaser and the junior class. "This year we were awesome, next year will be fantastic," remarked Schaser, During Spring Fever Week he coordinated the Great Ice Cream Scarf

Mr. Lee Johannsen (Mr. Jo) was Sophornore Class advisor. His door was usually open. Often if you looked in, you would find sophomores playing cards or just "hanging around." Occasionally you could find a junior or a senior who stopped by to talk

Another group of special people were the fourteen student teachers from Hum. boldt State University who worked with the following teachers. Joe Benamor -Mrs. Berliner, Magaret Brown - Mr. Cor. win, Lars Christensen - Mr. Vit; Jane

Clarich -Mrs. Reed; Kathy Cooper - Mr. Cobine; Mike Fedenburg - Mr. Darling. Robin Jones - Mr. Moehnke, Roger Kavaler — Mr. Miller, Brion Lovell -Social Science; Tim McDonnell - Mr. Jackson; Terri Palmquist --- Mr. Moehnke; Mick Ruscetta - Mrs Parrott: Debra Saufley — English; Jim Schlatter — Mr. Renfro

CLASSES

Sophs participate

Whether in sports, music, drama, or noontime activities, sophomores were there with both spirit and enthusiasm.

Among other attributes, the Class of '84 was involved. Besides participating in events, sophomores frequently took the lead. They were first in Homecoming's Izzy Dizzy Race; Jed Lengyel scored more CAML points than any of the other math test takers; sophomore Homecoming Queen candidate, Laura Ruell was first runner-up in sports, sophomores also excelled, tak ing first place honors in junior varsity foot ball, boys' basketball, track, and swimm ing. They were also undefeated in junior varsity volleyball and baseball

Class officers and council members worked long and hard to raise money for future use. Besides holding a traditional car wash, M & M's and hands with "#1" on them were sold

Well endowed with money and school spirit, the Class of '83 has great potential for their senior уеаг.

The Junior Class, active all year through, worked hard at both raising funds and participating in school activities

Because of a never-ending stream of candy bar sales, raising money proved no problems for the class. With the help and support of advisor Bill Schaser, future plans for uses of the hard-earned money will be well made, insuring the juniors of an elegant senior year

During lunch and after school, the Class of '83 showed its strength. Spring Prom elegant

The sights and sounds of Paris of yesteryears greeted the many couples who attended March's Spring Prom.

Complete with tie clad maiter d' and waitresses serving punch and eclairs to non-dancing couples, the theme proved to be elegant. To help transform the cafeteria into a Paris cafe, pictures of Cologne decorated the walls. Lattice work partitions separated tables for couples seeking privacy.

Although the band, "Dream Ticket, was considered undanceable at times, the music was easy to listen to. The music, sometimes too fast or too slow, was better than that played in some previous dances."

Unlike other years, students for all classes were allowed to attend with or without a junior counterpart. This allowed for a greater number of couples to enjoy the Paris atmosphere created by the juniors

Seniors fly high

"Until opening night it seemed we'd never get it together, but when the curtain opened, it worked." - Gretchen Heber

'Come Fly With Us," was the theme for the 1982 Senior Class Night. Under the direction and supervision of Al Braud and especially Larry Berliner and Gretchen Heber, the production was a money mak ing success

The theme was decided upon after countless meetings, of not too many people, who actually brought the whole thing together. Some meetings were even conducted in the EHS hallways, eventually moving to and around the auditorium to practice. With the gradual writing and finalizing of the skits, more and more people began showing up to fill roles. The night before the first production, the show lasted at least four hours, two more hours than expected. With the closing of the curtain on Wednesday night, there was a definite electricity in the air, everyone could feel it and there was an element of surprise because of the success of the

The show opened with "American Blandstand," followed by many dances, comedies and a few serious skits, with the final act of the "Air Orchestra."

Tickets sold for $2 which brought in a total profit of over two thousand dollars for the Senior Class.

A day in the rain

"We've got the worst luck! Raining on our picnic ... hopefully next years class will have sun." — Kim Nickel

On the drippy morning of June 4, the senior class loaded six buses. The class left for the picnic around nine in the morning, headed for Williams Grove.

After arriving, the students had a rain-filled day. The rain didn't stop some seniors from swimming, playing football and baseball, or throwing the class advisor Al Braud, into the river. Many others took an unexpected swim, which wasn't much different from the shower they'd been getting all day

Lunch featured footlong hotdogs, macaroni salad, potato chips, carrot and celery sticks, and soft drinks. Along with eating the food. some seniors ended up wearing it after the food

The buses were to leave for home at two inthe afternoon. By one that afternoon most students were ready to make their way home Shouts of "Let's Gol", "I'm bored!", and "I've had a better time home sick!", emerged before the buses were loaded again.

When reaching EHS, the sun was out and the seniors were glad to be home, so they could "dry off "

Seniors go tropical

"It was fantastic! It was the best night of my high school years. Everyone was having a good time. I loved it!" — Chris Doyle

The Senior Prom of 82, was held at the Masonic Temple, 172 couples attended this event, in "Tropical Paradise." Decorations which included palm trees, balloons, plants, fake parrots, and a wind surfer, created a romantic atmosphere

The young men looked handsome in their for mal attire, while the young ladies were a vision of the days when women wore long dresses

Candidates for King and Queen were: Jennie Null, Kevin Crew, Lynn Darling, Dennis Bass, Jenny Wilson, Scott Sanders, Mike Burger, Tina Panutses, Kendra Johnson, Will Inskip, Karen Leydecker, and Dan Johnson. Kendra. Johnson and Will Inskip were crowned the honorable couple, for the second year in a row

'Avaion," was the featured attraction playing anything from AC/DC to the Cars.

When asked how it felt to put this event together, Nicole Sanford replied, "It was a pain to put together, but it went over suprisingly well

Early Friday morning, June 11, the graduating class of '82 started rehearsal at Albee Stadium.

After practicing in dismal weather, the seniors were dismissed to get ready for the 2 p.m. ceremony

The traditional 'Pomp and Cir cumstance' was played by the EHS Or chestra as seniors excitedly marched into the stadium. Salutonans Larry Berliner led the Pledge of Allegiance and Jenny Wilson gave the invocation, Entering speeches were given by valedictorians Karen Carter, Angela Gallaty, Julia Slater, the fourth, Lori Moehnke, sang "To Sir With Love."

Lori Matsen, Will Lewis, Mixed Ensemble, and Choir were accompanied by the Orchestra, performing "Battle Hymm of the Republic."

Some former students of EHS shouted with glee as they received their diplomas, while others strutted, danced, and jumped off the platform. "I'm definitely going to miss this school," summed up senior Ken Thissel

Temperatures rise, fall

Sunny skies opened up Spring Fever week, but gray skies accompanied the Seniors' defeat Friday.

Many people enjoyed the traditional Auto Shop sponsored car show which opened Spring Fever Week 1982

While viewing the cars, students were entertained by EHS Jazz Band and remote controlled cars buzzing around a track

Varsity Volleyballers, featuring Nancy Imus, Cheryl Posl, Denise Tonini, Laura Ruell, Tammy Baarts, and Michelle Grot ting, defeated all competition in water balloon volleyball Tuesday. All three classes and eight EHS clubs participated in this wet adventure

Wednesday, the Spartacade relays took place in Albee Stadium. John Reed, Joe Brusca, Rob Landerman, Jim Emerick and Kevin Crew captured first as "The Clan Each member received a T-shirt proclaiming the victory

Thursday brought the Great Ice Cream Scarf. Over fifty teams participated, nearly all wearing official Scarf T shirts, designed by sophomore Brad Albee

Division I, featuring teams composed mainly of girls, was won by Kim Crabb, Debbie Retzloff, Cindy Panutsos, Angle Watts, and Hila Karlich. Will Lewis, Steve Thorne, Bob Storre, Dennis Bass, and Scott Radford comprised the winning team in Division II

Friday brought the annual Powder Puff game. The class of '83, juniors, restored tradition as they defeated the seniors Denise Tonini, of the victorious team won Most Valuable Player

Coronation of Chris Doyle took place at a pre-game rally

Tradition restored

When the Awesome Juniors defeated the Senior Sting, the tradition of winning underclassmen returned.

Seniors powder puff team of '82 had its second unsuccessful year in a row while juniors wallowed in victory

Spring fever week began with both powder puff teams raging up and down the halls screaming that they were sure to win, while the teams' coaches desperately tried to get their girls to learn the plays

While rumors did spread that the seniors looked as if they were the team to put your money on, juniors took the seniors for an unexpected ride and landed on their goal line a few more times than did seniors, leaving them beind 19-7

Although most senior fans were disappointed with the result of the game, cheerleaders were a main attraction and kept the crowd either in stiches or at home

Sequoia records

"I think Sequoia is a good public relations experience." — Julie Zobel

This year's Sequoia theme was carried out well by the staff of 16 who worked on the yearbook. After careful thought and planning the theme, "We the People" was chosen and developed

The production of the yearbook progressed slowly at first but picked up speed as the year rolled on

Various ideas for layouts were used and aquired from many different magazines

Leaders rally to improve

"EHS has a lot compared to other schools. People here care about our school and what happens." — Janet Henchell

Under the leadership of Associated Student Body President Janet Henchell and Vice-President Cheryl Posl, and the direction of Advisor Ray Mechals, the Student Government class planned and directed many of the activities that made 1981-82 memorable.

Homecoming, including the Bon Fire Rally, Eureka Invitational Basketball Sadie Hawkins Dance and Spring Fever Week were all incredibly successful

One of Henchell's goals as ASB president, she stated at the outset of the year was to promote more school spirit

That this was accomplished 1981-82 was apparent when one attended any sports event in which EHS participated

Along with basketball cheerleader Captain Lisa Brown, Rally Commissioner Dan Johnson helped organize the popular Axe Club

Spirit was as good as I'd hoped it would be." commented Henchell

Student government also organized in tramural sports and the Salvation Army food drive, both very successful events in order to help combat the rising van dalism problem, the class took a survey of students' thoughts on vandalism. The survey made students more aware of the problem and more willing to help combat it.

1981-1982 was Eureka High's first year as a member of the California Association of Student Councils CASC. The state-wide organization allows schools to share ideas and concepts.

Michelle Grotting, Raynell Johnson Karen Strombeck and Laura Ruell were Athletic, Interclub, Dance and Publicity Commissioners, respectively. Dan Johnson was Ratly Commissioner Phoebe Ashley was Eureka High's representative to the Eureka City Schools Board of Trustees

A special and unique group of students attended EHS last year.

'Pizza's the greatest!" exclaimed ex change student Regina Hoheisel. Hoheisel, from Ghrensburg, West Germany, is one of seven foreign students who spent part of the 1981-82 school year at Eureka High

In addition to Hoheisel, two other West Germans spent the year at EHS: Ralf Oberndoefer and Horst Bayer. Although not an exchange student, Bayer was in American on a one-year student visa

Osaama Tirawi from Beirut, Lebanon was also here on a student visa

Ayumi Doi and Megumi Okazaki came to the U.S. from Japan. Foreign student, Derik Jones, was from Randfontien, South

Oberndoefer says he came to America to learn more about the U.S. What we hear in the West German news is biased We are led to believe that Ronald Reagan prepresents all America. I've learned that he doesn't

Oberndoefer helped represent EHS by playing on the soccer class activities, in cluding Senior Class Night

Hoheisel and Okazaki expressed a common, adamant dislike for an American favorite, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches

"I hate then," claims Okazaki. Doi is an accomplished musician and was featured on the organ at a Music Department concert. She played plano in the Eureka High Jazz Band

Players came alive

"One of the best shows in years was due to a wonderful and excellent cast" - Beth Webb of Babes in Arms.

Nancy Crane

1981-82 proved to be a comeback year. for the EHS players. They started out with a hit Our Miss Brooks and ended with the Broadway smash Babes in Arms. Both productions proved, without a doubt, that the EHS Players were indeed alive

Our Miss Brooks started out with a show of strength by the new actors. Casey Carson and Eric Stroud stole the spotlight with veterans Chris Cole and Lorraine Guglielmina. The show went on despite a storm that almost left the players in the dark, but David Bain, head crewman helped to hold it together

Mr. Ken McClure and Liz Stanley, director and assistant to both shows, worked hard and got their rewards when praise came in from everywhere. The first musical in years took to the stage with Babes in Arms. McClure worked together with Mr. Don Moehnke and Ms. Patricia. Donohue to put on a superb performance in the spring. Principals David Bain, Deane Mendes, Lori Moehnke, Sue Berning, and Linc Briney helped create a performance that none who saw the show will forget

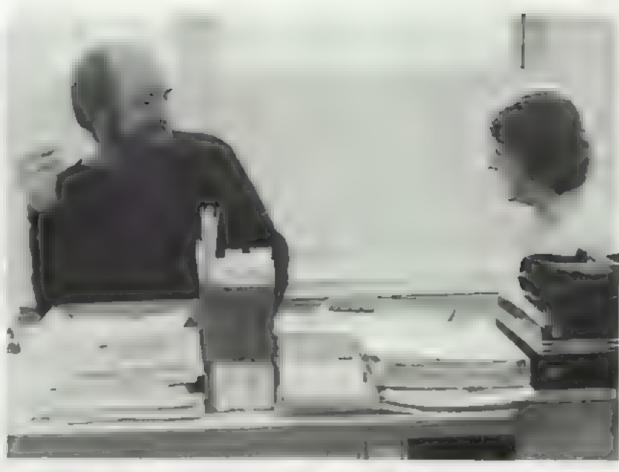

The show, cast, crew, and others involv ed received a well deserved standing

All in all the year proved to be a super comeback for the players. Casts, crews, organizers, coordinators, and directors showed EHS spirit. They're ALIVE!

EHS has the winners

Though the term "winner" has many connotations, each person at Eureka High is, in his own way, a winner.

All the winners of EHS are too numerous to mention; here are presented a few outstanding people

These are special EHS students who have enriched lives, theirs and ours by their special accomplishments

I As a preliminary to his record-setting high Jump 5'7", Brent Smith prepares to clear 5'10". Smith s academic and athletic achievements led him to win a scholarship to University of the Pacific

2. Sara Myers, who was selected as the best high school French Horn player in California, performs here at the Christmas concert

3. Pat Forthun, one of four EHS students who places at the young writers' Conference in April, took first in short story and second in poetry. "It blew me away," she said.

4. Nine of the top ten members of the graduating class. are happy about their achievements. Julia Slater, Cindy Lewis, Ben Hotz, Becki Sullivan, Angela Gallaty, Karen Carter, Jenny Witson, Beth Kime and Larry Berliner Not pictured is Lori Moehnke

5. Becky Sullivan prepares for the North Coast Sec. tions of business, where she placed first. Her achievements led her to third in the state

6. Larry Berliner prepares for state plano competition, were he placed a very close second

7 Shirley Folkins was chosen Rhododendron Queen during the City of Eureka's annual Rhododendron Festival in late April

Heber, Vogt edit Sequoia

Diligent editors and advisor strive to make "We the People" the best yearbook ever.

As editor of the Sequoia, my tasks included. designing layout styles, developing theme, editing copy and photographs, answering, and asking, questions

The development of this 1981-82 year book utilized all these facets, and more. It could not have been completed without the help of many. The administration, the clerical staffs, Linda Ellis, Ray Mechals and Student Government, Hollanders and our advertisers are just a few of the many who deserve special recognition for their assistance in the creation of this book

I would like to extend a special, heartfelt thank you to Advisor Sylvia Rodgers, Assistant Editor Susan Vogt and the very special staff who worked, sometimes under whip and chain, to produce this special book.

> Gretchen Heber Editor 1982 Sequoia

I Hard working Advisor Sylvia Rodgers is happy to be back at Sequois after a year off

2. Editors Gretchen Heber and Susans Vogt are, as usual, hard at work perparing for a tough session of yearbook work

Spirit renewed

The people of EHS were brought together in the formation of a group organized to promote spirit.

A new club designed to promote spirit and school pride was initiated at Eureka

Over 160 people joined the Axe (Always) Excel Eureka) Club during basketball

We thought we'd be lucky to get maybe 30 people to join," claimed Dan Johnson, founder of the club

Johnson, along with basketball cheerleader Captain Lisa Brown, Mr. Ray Mechals, and many others organized the club which brought many high-spirited, red and green clad, woodenaxe laden students to each home game and many away games

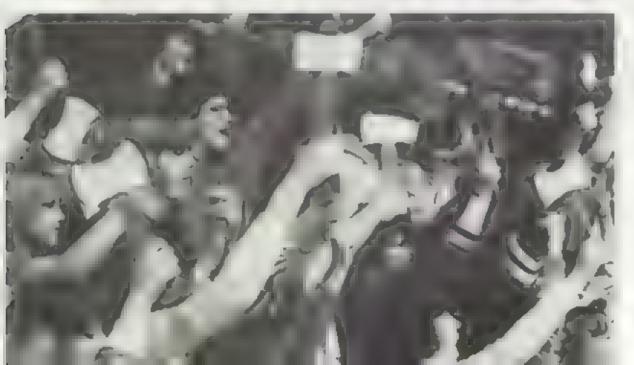

Cheers and chants were borrowed from other schools, as well as Eureka High s own, some nearly as old as the century. In addition, many new chants were created by talented EHS people.

"The Axe Club was something we need ed. Everyone had the spirit, but needed motivation to bring it out," revealed

Mr. Bill Crichton designed Tishirts for club members, who sat in a designated area at games

At game halftime, a free pizza was awarded to the lucky person who held the Axe with the winning number

How to write a resume

International Paper asked Jerrold G. Simon, Ed.D., psychologist and career development specialist at Harvard Business School, who has counseled over a thousan to people in their search for jobs, to tell sea how to go after the job you really want

It you are about to launch a search for a job, the suggestions I offer here can help you whether or not you have a high school or college diploma, whether you are starting out or changing your jol or career in midstream

"What do I want to do?"

Before you try to find a job opening, you have to answer the hardest question of your working life. "What do I want to do Here's a good way.

Sit down with a piece of paper and don't get up till you've listed all the things you're proud to accomplished. Your list not a milling campaign, or acting to the second second mention it

"Designed," "Achieved," "Caused."

No typos, please

Make sure your grammar and spelling are correct. And no typos!

Use 8½" x 11" bond paper—white or off-white for easy reading. Don't cram things together

Make sure your original is clean and readable. Then have it profes signally dup leated. No carbons

Get it into the right hands

Now that your resume is ready, start to track down job openings. How? Look up business friends, personal friends, neighbors, your minister, your college alumni association, professional services. Keep up with trade publications, and read help-wanted ads.

And start your own "direct mail" campaign. First, find out about the companies you are interested in—their size, location, what they make, their competition, their advertising, their prospects. Get their annual report—and read it.

No "Dear Sir" letters

Send your resume, along with a cover letter, to a specific person in the company, not to "Gentlemen" or "Dear Sir." The person should be the top person in the irea where you want to work. Spell

realler's own needs
What's in it for him

Quickly explain why you are approaching his company (their product line, their superior training program) and what you can bring to the party. Back up your claims with facts. Then refer him to your enclosed resume and ask for an interview.

Oh, boy! An interview!

And now you've get an interview. Be sure to call the day before to confirm it. Meantime, prepare yourself. Research the company and the job by reading books and business journals in the library

On the big day, arrive 15 m.n. utes early. Act calm, even though, if you're normal, you're trembling inside at 6.5 on the Richter scale. At every chance, let your interviewer see that your personal skills and qualifications relate to the job at hand. If it's a sales position, for example, go all out to show how articulate and persuasive you are

Afterwards, follow through with a brief thank-you note. This is a fine opportunity to restate your qualifications and add any important points you didn't get a chance to bring up during the interview

Keep good records

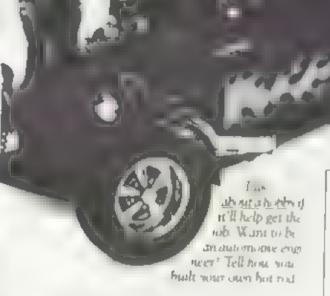

Keep a list of prospects. List the dates you contacted them, when they replied, what was said

And remember, someone out there is looking for someone just like wine. It takes hard work and sometimes luck to find that per son. Keep at it and you'll succeed.

it's our job to bring industry to Humboldt County. It's your responsibility to get the job once it's there. I hope this helps
